

Soccer Season

The Plano Sports Authority soccer program kicked off Saturday in practice sessions, with more than 1800 boys and girls of the Plano Independent School District participating in the second season program. In this game, the Defenders beat the Raiders, 4-0. Games are played on land donated to the City of Plano by Hunt Properties, and city improvements made to the land includes planting grass, building gravel parking areas, striping and keeping up maintenance of the fields. The PSA season will officially begin Feb. 23. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

Successful Y Drive

Funds Go 10 Percent Over Goal

Although the Plano YMCA fund drive was almost 10 percent away from its $45,000 goal over the weekend, the drive workers put on a burst at the finish to end the campaign at close to 10 percent over the goal, or more than $49,000.

Reporting on Monday night, the last day of the drive, the workers brought in close to $8,000 to climax the campaign at $49,113, or 109 percent over the goal.

Winning the contest for Outstanding New Worker was Ron Smith, who chalked up $2,180, the highest individual effort among all the individual winners in other categories.

Dr. Bob Swetston and Randy Wright both collected $1,738 to tie for the Top Past Worker Award.

Winning the Top Division Award was Laura Hargett's Women's Division, which reported in 158 percent of its goal, or $5,506.

Other divisions which went over 100 percent included Dick Sievert's Indian Princess Division, $3,695, or 143 percent; Wright's "No Name" Division, $5,316, or 151 percent; Jack Cockrill's School Division, $2,508, or 101 percent; John Waddell's Division, $3,510, or 101 percent; Dr. James Stephen's Special Division, $12,164, or 121 percent, and James Lewis' Industry Division, $7,325, or 147 percent.

Winner of the Top School Worker Award was Cockrill, who collected $1,145, while Dr. Bill Hill was named Top Canyon Creek Worker, with $335 collected.

Top Team Captain was Jim Taylor, with a team total collection of $2,410, and the Top Women's Worker was Linda Kay Sherrill, with $1,125 collected. Dr. Swetston was named Top Indian Princess Worker with his $1,738 individual total, and Curtis Mayo was named Top Indian Guide Worker with $503 collected.

Winners of the newly-inaugurated Grand Awards were James Lewis, Dr. James Stephens, Dan Smith, Joe Chapman, Joe Mashburn, C.J. Masson, Ron Smith, Jim Taylor, Jack Cockrill, Linda Kay Sherrill, Dr. Bob Swetston and Randy Wright.

Winners of the Half-Grand Award, including the Grand Award winners, were Curtis Mayo, Laura Hargett, Gail Yaw, Olympia Margies, Ann Starnater, Nathan White Jr., Don Reddick, John Helsley, Ralph Morris, Mrs. C.J. Masson and Jim Sloan.

"I'm just really elated over the way these workers have reported in and the way the people of Plano have responded to the drive," John Masson, campaign chairman, commented Tuesday. "It will really mean a lot to the Y to have this money to work with. It means a lot more kids are going to have a lot more to do in the Y program," he added.

Backing up Masson was Y executive director Bill Botts, who also cited the expanded program as being made possible through the successful drive.

"This has been a very exciting year, and it's just begun," Botts stated.

"We've moved into our new building, we've had a highly successful fund drive, and now we're looking forward to the year's program of activities."

"One of the key things which will be aided by this drive is our scholarship program," Botts went on to say. "Last year, we sponsored over 50 kids in the Y program, and this year, we'll be able to help even more."

Botts also pointed out that the Y now had approximately 180 Century Club members—sponsors who donated $100 or more—which is well over the goal of 175 set at the beginning of the fund drive.

In addition to the many award winners already mentioned, Botts also singled out the Quota-Buster Award winners, which included Dr. James Stephens, Dan Smith, Joe Chapman, Ralph Morris, Joe Mashburn, C.J. Masson, Mrs. C.J. Masson, Joe Cook, Jim Sloan, John Sloan, James Lewis, Joy Lewis, Rob Harrington and John Waddell.

Also, Ron Smith, L.B. Showalter, Dennis Acklin, Al Dahl, Dr. Bill Hill, Mac McCaskey, Dan Kratochbill, Jack Cockrill, Bill Loggins, Carolyn Sockwell, Winnie Lyle, Don Reddick, John Helsley, and Nathan White Jr.

Also, Leland Robinson Jr., Frank Beverly, Ray Mitchell, John Poff, Randy Wright, Jim Taylor, James Loveday, Ed Stephens, Curtis Hardin, Danny Sears, Harlan Crane, Leon Caplinger, Larry Jackson and Jerry Bragg.

Also, Steve Goodman, John Ginter, Laura Hargett, Linda Kay Sherrill, Kay Morris, Louise Sherrill, Bea Myers, Lana Cooksey, Wilma Neinst, Gail Yaw, Olympia Margies, Jean Lauterback, Anita Palmer and Ann Starnater.

Also Dick Siebert, Bob Nass, Dr. Bob Swetston, Warner Richeson, Curtis Mayo, Al Bone and Wayne Durham.

Dealers Say

Gas Should Last

With a little extra planning Plano motorists should be able to find gasoline through the end of the month, according to a survey conducted by the Star-Courier Monday.

Other Texas residents may not be so fortunate. The Dallas AAA has estimated that 60 percent of Dallas stations will be closed by Feb. 23.

Expressway "66" expects to have plenty of gas to make it through the month without cutting hours or limiting purchases. The station is open six days a week from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Coker's Fina also has an ample supply. The station is open six days a week 6:30 a.m. to 9 p.m., and until 9:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday.

Ray Reeves Shell and Plano North Mobil stations expect their supplies to last through the month with a little stretching. The Mobil station will only sell 2,000 gallons a day.

Plano Park Exxon station is also stretching its supply by opening only five days a week from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Lewis Gulf will spread out its supply by opening only on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Monday and Friday afternoons.

The Downtown Texaco said that its gasoline would probably be sold by this weekend and Moore Texaco may run out in the last couple of days in the month. Moore is limiting gasoline to a $3 purchase and Downtown is open only from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Students Work for Scott

Chore Money to Benefit 6-Year-Old

BY NELDA WHITEHEAD
Staff Writer

On Dec. 11, this reporter wrote an article about young Scott Spencer who was a patient in Presbyterian Hospital and who was about to undergo his sixth operation for brain tumors.

Since that time, Scott has had his sixth birthday and on Feb. 13, underwent his tenth operation. The cysts keep forming, and surgery is the only answer.

The parents of Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Spencer, moved the family to Plano just two weeks before he entered the hospital on July 6, 1973. The family had moved from Garland because Scott seemed to have a learning problem, and it was suggested this school system might help him, as Plano has the early childhood program.

Of course his problem turned out not to be a learning problem at all, but a very serious illness that has kept him in the hospital for seven long months.

According to Mrs. Cathy Adams, a close friend of the family, the hospital bill alone has reached the $50,000 mark.

A fund for Scott was arranged at the Plano Bank and Trust in December by another friend, Mrs. Linda Smith, and is administered by Jerry Cox.

The sixth grade class at Davis Elementary has declared Mar. 2 as a work day, with all proceeds going to the fund. The children will clean yards, wash cars, or do any chores anyone might wish done, and the cost will be $1 an hour.

Also Mrs. Joyce Boise, who bakes and decorates cakes, will take orders with all proceeds to go toward Scott's medical bills.

To employ one of the Davis youngsters or to order a cake, call either Mrs. Boise at 423-2323 or Mrs. Adams at 424-4685.

Scott's father, Phillip, is an employee of Frito-Lay, and the Spencers also have one little girl, Shellie, who is four years of age.

Show & Field Host Coffee

The Show and Field Pet Shop will sponsor the Chamber of Commerce coffee tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank.

The coffee is open to all business and professional people. Membership in the chamber is not required.

Nine Musicians Earn Solo Trips

Nine Plano High School band students earned trips to the State Solo and Ensemble Contest with 10 first division performance ratings at the regional contest Saturday at Nimitz High School in Irving.

Junior Jim Gant was double winner, receiving one of three first-division ratings given for cornet solos and joining Rene Chapman, Carrie Spreen, Tom Bauman and Steve Sparman in a first division brass quintet performance.

Other first division performers were piccolo soloist Cathy Ward and the flute trio of Karen Beleele, Ruth Goolsby, and Angie Sharp. PHS band director Emmitt Clem attributed the smaller number of first division performances to the "toughest judging" experienced at recent contests.

Seven Plano musicians earned second division ratings for solo performances, while seven ensembles also received second divisions.

Soloists bringing home second division rankings were drummers James Wilbanks and Terry Stanbaugh, clarinetist Michelle Ballard, tuba player Mike Snow, flutist Laura Jones and trombonists Marilyn Covey and Mark Stegall.

Three flute ensembles earned second divisions. They included the quartet of Karen Beleele, Peggy Palmer, Cathy Ward and Karen Young, the trio of Libby Barr, Ann Oliver and Lisa Ripple, and the quartet of Cecile Brumfield, Ann Oliver, Joan Schnaithman and Libby Barr.

Other second division ensembles were a woodwind quintet of Debra Furrh, Ruth Goolsby, Karen Simmons, Dana Moore and Joan Schnaithman and a brass sextet of Joe Braun, Gary Leavitt, Jimmy Noel, Greg Owens, Mike Snow and Carrie Spreen.

Completing the list of second division winners were the clarinet trio of Lee Ann Lofye, Dana Moore and Karen Simmons and the clarinet quartet of Sharon Atkinson, Michelle Ballard, Mark Freeman and Lee Ann Lofye.

WFAA Features VICA Activities

Discussion of Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) activities at Plano High School will be featured on WFAA-TV Channel 8 television's early morning news show "News 8 Etc." Wednesday.

Plano High School senior Kim Barton, President of the Industrial Cooperative Training (ICT) VICA Chapter, and ICT coordinator Archie McAfee will talk with show hosts Susie Humphries and John Criswell in recognition of National VICA week.

VICA is the youth leadership organization for students in vocational, industrial, trades, technical and health occupations. Some 90 PHS students are involved in the ICT, Metal Trades and Auto Lab VICA chapters at Plano, according to McAfee.

Forty-two of Plano's VICA students will be in Longview March 8-9 participating in the District VII spring meet. Last year when Plano was in VICA District II, PHS chapter members hosted the spring meet and earned more ribbons than all other school combined.

Ticket Prone

Plano police officials will begin enforcing the newly instigated no parking ban on Alma Road by the PSA soccer fields next weekend. A five-acre, white rock parking area is now available adjacent to the field. An officer and a representative of the Parks and Recreation department will be on the scene Saturday to direct motorists to legal parking areas. A pamphlet is also being printed to explain the new regulations. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

County Judge

Knott Seeks Spot

Elliott Knott has announced for the office of County Judge in the Democratic primary.

He is 34 years old and has been a resident of McKinney since 1947. He graduated from McKinney High School in 1957 and from SMU in 1962 with a BBA degree in economics.

Upon completion of undergraduate school, he spent six years commission service with the U.S. Air Force, being released from active duty in 1968. He still holds the permanent rank of captain in the U.S. Air Force Reserve.

While in the service he was assigned for three years to the San Bernardino Air Material Area at Norton Air Force Base, Calif. It was the function of this organization to furnish logistic support to all the liquid fuel ICBMs and space boosters in the Air Force inventory.

He was also assigned to two NATO support units in Europe from 1966 until 1968, one in Turkey, the other in Germany.

Upon completion of military service, Knott worked for Texas Instruments in Richardson prior to entering the Texas Tech University School of Law in 1969.

After graduating from law school and passing the bar exam, he went to work for Collin County Criminal District Attorney Tom O'Connell, where he is presently employed.

About running for judge, Knott said:

"Collin County is one of the most rapidly growing counties in the state, if not the nation with a budget for 1974 of over three million dollars," he stated.

"Our county governing body, the commissioners court, is being faced with problems today which didn't even exist four years ago," Knott said. "We need to plan now how to meet these problems."

"One area of vital concern is law enforcement. The problems that have faced Dallas County for the past decade are now facing Collin County. Law enforcement is a countywide problem and needs to be dealt with on that basis," he emphasized.

"In addition to presiding over the commissioner's court, the county judge has the responsibilities of presiding over the probate court, over lunacy proceedings, and is a member of the juvenile board. I think these three areas require someone with legal training," Knott added.

"The office of county judge in this county is a full-time job and it will be my only job," he concluded.

McCall Wins Torch

David B. McCall Jr. of Plano was the recipient of the District 15 Business and Professional Women's Torch Award at the district meeting in Grand Prairie Tuesday.

The meeting, entitled "Salute To Achievers," also had nominees from District 15 Clubs entering the Young Careerist and Woman of the Year competition.

McCall received the Plano Business and Professional Women's Torch Award at their October banquet because of distinguished efforts in affording women employees the opportunity for achievement, remuneration and executive status in the First National Bank of Plano. McCall serves as executive director of First National Bank of Plano, owns and operates David McCall Real Estate, an insurance business, and is president of Plano Savings and Loan Association.

The women employees of the First National Bank were quoted as saying, "Mr. McCall is very deserving as he has afforded the women employees in all his businesses to be promoted to executive status, and feels that if a woman is willing to work hard and increase her knowledge in the field of banking or insurance or real estate, as well as increasing her efficiency in her own particular position, then she should not be held back."

At the present time, three of the eight officers for First National Bank are women, each one having responsibilities at the executive level. Miss Betty Eaton is vice president of the bank and loan officer; Mrs. Barbara McCracken is vice president and secretary to McCall, and Mrs. Eva Newell is assistant cashier and head of the teller department. In addition to these officers, Mrs. Doris Lynde is director of the Women's Service Department, a department created by McCall especially to meet the needs of the bank's many women customers.

In February 1955, when McCall decided to enter the business field instead of remaining in the school teaching profession, he hired Merle Stange to manage his insurance office and later moved her into an executive position as manager and secretary of the David McCall Insurance Co., where she is over several other employees in the business.

Mrs. Wanda McCreary is also an executive in the insurance real estate business and handles contracts, leasing, rentals, insurance, serves as receptionist and keeps McCall appointments.

Mrs. Hattie Morrow is one of the original employees of the savings and loan

NTMWD Given Raw Water Plan

The board of directors of the North Texas Municipal Water District (NTMWD) have been presented a raw water study for the existing service area of the NTMWD to the year 2050.

Included in the study are member cities Plano, McKinney, Farmersville, Princeton, Wylie, Royse City, Richardson, Rockwall, Forney, and Mesquite.

Also included are customer cities Dallas, Fairview, Fate, Lucas, Murphy, Rowlett, Sachse, and Sunnyvale, plus a number of water supply cooperations.

It is projected that by the Year 2000 the NTMWD will be serving approximately one million citizens, utilizing approximately an average of one hundred and fifty five million gallons of water per day and a maximum of approximately three hundred and forty million gallons per day.

By the year 2050 it is estimated the region could have grown to one million six hundred and fifteen thousand with the need for approximately three hundred million gallons of water per day average, with peaking requirements in excess of six hundred and fifty millions gallons per day.

The report provides five alternate plans to meet the raw water requirements through the year 2050.

Based on 1973 prices, the development cost for raw water alone could exceed one hundred and twenty five million dollars.

"To achieve an adequate supply for the future growth of this area will require not only planning, but the determination and courage to move forward one step at a time."

Collins Opposes Canal Surrender

Congressman Jim Collins has introduced a House Resolution opposing the surrender of any U.S. control over the Panama canal Zone.

Collins said he is concerned that current treaty negotiations with the Republic of Panama might lead to eventual control of the canal by an unstable Panamanian government.

Collins noted the Article IV, Section 3, Clause 2 of the United States Constitution gives the power to dispose of territory or other property of the United States specifically to the Congress.

"The present canal treaty gives the United States sovereignty over the Canal Zone and total control over the canal," Collins noted. "I strongly oppose any surrender of that control to the Republic of Panama. Both our economy and national security have a lot at stake in these negotiations."

Dr. Christopher A. Parr, right, UT-Dallas assistant professor of Chemistry, discusses the reaction dynamics of a vibrationally excited molecular ethane structure with fellow chemist Dr. Lynn Melton. Dr. Parr recently received a grant from the Robert A. Welch Foundation for a theoretical study of the forces and reactions between various fragments of this and other small molecules. The image of the molecule was obtained through computer graphics techniques, which constitute another of Dr. Parr's projects. That project is supported by UT System Organized Research funds.

UTD Prof Gets Chemistry Grant

A three-year Robert A. Welch Foundation grant for research in "Reaction Dynamics of Polyatomic Molecules" has been received by University of Texas at Dallas Associate Professor of Chemistry Christopher A. Parr.

The grant, which begins May 1 and continues through April 30, 1977, will be funded in the amount of $10,000 each year.

"The intense ongoing theoretical research into the chemical reactions of atoms and idatonic molecules is yielding much insight into the reaction process," Dr. Parr said.

"The extension of these studies to larger molecules will enable us to understand what role the architecture of molecules plays in chemical reaction. What, for example, are the effects on the right side of a molecule which is being struck from the left side? How do these effects influence left side reactions? How do various parts of the molecule compete and cooperate in the ballet which is the essence of chemical reaction?"

The first task, Dr. Parr

is, the development of simple, reliable inter-atomic force calculations in many-atom molecules. A quantum mechanical model calculation will be decomposed into contributions from atoms, diatomic and triatomic pieces. These will be adjusted to coincide with experimental measurements. Recomposition of the corrected fragment contributions should result in a reasonable approximation for the necessary forces.

Finally, the dynamic response of all the atoms of these forces must be calculated. The methods of celestial (Newtonian) mechanics will be employed to solve this problem. The adequacy of application of these macroscopic mechanics to the microscopic world of molecules must be tested by comparison of the results with those from the correct quantum mechanics applied to highly simplified models.

The general dynamical rules sought in this study will be to the majority of gas phase chemical reactions, Dr. Parr said.

Red Carpet Realtors Congregate

Amidst a flurry of red coats, red dresses, red carpeting, and red decor, more than 300 members of Red Carpet Realtors from across Texas gathered at the Marriott Motor Hotel in Dallas to officially salute the launching of Red Carpet in Texas.

Members of Red Carpet from Plano, Dallas, Fort Worth, and Houston joined the festivities, which were sponsored by the Dallas Metro Council of Red Carpet. The cocktail reception-dance included a minimum of official speeches and a maximum of socializing, and provided the first opportunity for many of the members to meet each other since joining the Red Carpet organization.

As was pretty obvious to the eye, the theme of the get-together was "Red Is Beautiful."

The size of the crowd on hand demonstrated pretty graphically the growth of Red Carpet which first came into the state with the opening of 25 offices in Dallas last October. Since then, councils in Tarrant County (Fort Worth) and Harris County (Houston) have raised the number of offices to more than 85. Each office is independently owned and operated, but is part of a cooperative organization working within the Red Carpet system, which includes more than 550 offices nationwide.

TEC Assists Unemployed

7,753 Applicants Register for New Jobs

"From its opening as a full-service office on Jan. 15, 1973 through Dec. 31, the Richardson-Plano Office of Texas Employment Commission served ever-increasing numbers of both applicants and employers," J.M. Amerson, office manager, said today.

During the 11½ months that the office was open for business in 1973, 7,753 applications for work were accepted. Although most of these individuals were unemployed, some were seeking better jobs or a different type of occupation, he said.

These workers were of all age groups, both male and female, and represented all types of skills and backgrounds. Many were inexperienced entrants to the labor force. Together they offered employers in the greater Richardson-

Plano area the largest labor supply listing in the community.

Amerson adds that more than 90 percent of those registering for employment have not previously registered for work in other TEC offices. According to Amerson this indicates that the office is serving its intended purpose of reaching many who need assistance and who have not seen fit to contact other TEC offices prior to the opening of the local office.

This supply of workers coupled with requests from employers enabled the Richardson-Plano Office to place 2,779 individuals on jobs in all types of occupations in 1973.

Amerson states that although no figures are available for the first half of last year, his records do indicate that during the last half of the year, employers in the greater Richardson-Plano area (including some northern points in Dallas County) listed 4,457 job openings with Texas Employment Commission's Job Bank Office.

A total of 1,581 initial claims for state Unemployment Insurance was accepted during the year.

"Although we are charged by law to accept claims for unemployment insurance, and although payments are made to individuals who have qualifying wage credits and who meet eligibility requirements, our major purpose is to assist both workers and employers by helping to fill job openings. In this respect, 1973 was a good year," Amerson continued.

When additional information is needed before an interviewer can determine worker skills, the office provides professional employment counseling and both aptitude and proficiency testing.

"We want to thank both applicants and employers in Richardson, Plano, and surrounding areas for using our services and extend cordial invitation for anyone needing employment assistance to visit the office," he said.

The office is located at 559 Arapahoe Centri Park in Richardson and is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Mondays through Fridays.

Cagney Equals Legend

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Jimmy Cagney is one legend who lives up to advances. He's a towering man of charm, intellect and a curious personal intimacy. Cagney takes no idea lightly, no conversation casually, no friend for granted. He is filled with humor and wisdom.

On March 13 he will be honored by The American Film Institute at a testimonial dinner at which he will be presented the Life Achievement Award. He's flattered and pleased that Hollywood remembers him affectionately after an absence of 13 years. But throughout his 40 years as an entertainer it never crossed his mind to register a "life achievement."

"Hoofing in Vaudeville. I concentrated on what I was doing at the time, not a career," Cagney said. "You go to work, you do a job, you pick up the money and go home. I never had an overall view of my life. "In the beginning it was hoofing in vaudeville. Wherever there was a job, that's where I went. And I was so bad I was thrown out of the worst theater in New York City. That's a fact. "It was the old Fox Star

Theater at 107th and Lexington. I was the 21-year-old juvenile straight man in an act. After our first performance the theater manager gave me a paper and said, 'Sign here.' I did, and he said, 'You're through.' "It was really a lousy act. There were five of us in the group. I'll never forget the grand total of our check, $11.33 — split five ways."

Spark and Crackle Cagney was in the comfortable den of his old canyon home. He wore a baggy sweater, paint-stained trousers and high, old-fashioned tennis sneakers. Only flecks of red show in his gray hair. He's a little heavier than in his dancing days. But there is a spark and crackle to his eyes which light up an entire room.

"I was broke and looking for work a lot in the old days," he went on. "I used to hang around Panic Beach at the corner of 47th Street and 7th Avenue. All the unemployed hoofers stood around comparing notes, hoping somebody would come along and hire them. "They were really polished dancers. Much better than me. But they limited themselves to hoofing. I took any kind of a performing job for breakfast. I guess I was luckier than the others.

"Chance plays a large part in any success. You take the chance and then go out and do the job as hard as you can. In vaudeville you only had 15 or 20 minutes to do everything you could.

"Once a performer gets in the habit of going all out, it continues right into the movies or whatever else you're doing."

Cagney's furious energy is apparent in every one of his scores of movies. His own favorite film is "Yankee Doodle Dandy." It won him the Oscar for best actor in 1942.

"Playing George M. Cohan was great," he said. "It was good drama and good music. The picture took 50 years of a troubled life and put it to music. The movie was what it should have been."

Cagney is one of a handful of movie greats to retire and make it stick.

"I knew my career was over in the middle of my last picture," he said. "I was standing out in the sun at Goldwyn Studios when the director called me in for the next scene. The picture was 'One Two Three.' When I had to leave that sunshine for the dark gloom of the sound stage, I knew. "Earlier I'd received a picture of a bunch of my friends toasting my health with highballs aboard my boat. They'd written on the back, 'Nice you are gainfully employed.' That did it!"

Cagney divides his time between his home here and a Massachusetts farm. He paints, visits with a few friends and watches a great deal of television.

"I don't see many movies. In fact," he grinned, "I've seen four movies since 1967—'Oliver,' 'Patton,' 'Lion In Winter' and 'My Fair Lady.'"

"And I only went to those because my dear friend (producer) A.C. Lyles assured me I would like them. And he did."

AS He approached his 74th birthday—and 52 years of marriage to his wife Frances—James Cagney is enjoying his life fully. He also has a very special talent for contributing to the joy of those around him.

Movie Office Set Up

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — For movie producers considering making New York State the backdrop for their next pictures, the State Commerce Department has set up an office to coordinate such projects.

The Division of Public Information in the department helps commercial film makers identify and make use of appropriate filming locations, including such areas as parklands, forest preserves and historic sites.

'Texas' Tryouts Set For Musical

Four directors will be seeking talent for "Texas" in Dallas, on Saturday, March 2.

"Texas" is the musical drama by Paul Green which plays for the ninth season this summer in the beautiful Palo Duro Canyon in the Texas Panhandle. Eighty actors, singers, dancers, players on banjo, accordion, violin, double bass and guitar will have an opportunity to be a part of the professional company which produces this world renowned musical romance, already seen by more than half a million people.

Applicants for singing and acting are invited to appear in Dallas between 10 a.m. and noon. Dancers will try-out from noon on.

There are a hundred salaries ranging from $500 to $1000 for a summer on the stage and back stage, and anyone who is interested is cordially urged to apply.

William A. Moore, the director of "Texas" since its beginning, will be looking for command of the audience, for a voice that can be heard outdoors, for actors who understand character motivation, conveying a variety of emotions. He asks that the try-out selection be a memorized scene from a play (three minutes or less).

The musical director, Royal Brantley, is looking for voices of quality and precision, and urges applicants to choose audition material which will show the range of their voices and their artistry. Some musical comedy songs, most arias and art songs will do this.

Neil Hess, the choreographer, requests dance applicants to appear in rehearsal dress, and to be prepared to follow him in a set of dance routines.

The season will open with a first rehearsal on May 26. Performances will be nightly except Sundays from June 19 through Aug. 24.

After Dallas, the directors will hold their final auditions in Oklahoma City on Sunday, March 10.

For more information or for audition brochure, write "Texas", Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015, or call 806-655-2182.

Boat Thieves Steal Cars, Too

Find a motor vehicle theft ring and you might turn up a stolen boat or two.

At least this has been the experience of the National Automobile Theft Bureau (NATB).

"More often than not, we find that the same people who steal cars also steal boats," said C. C. Benson, manager of the Southwestern division of the NATB.

The odds of having a boat stolen are getting greater. The NATB compiled stolen reports on 1,143 boats in 1973. The FBI's National Crime Information Center Computer in Washington now contains records on nearly 9,000 boat thefts.

In order to change the odds and the prevent the theft in the first place, Benson recommended that boat owners use some type of engraving device to place their driver's license or social security number several places on the boat, its power unit and trailer -- preferably in inconspicuous locations.

"Strangely enough, the people who guard their autos often fail to protect their boats."

"Boat owners seem to forget that thieves are in business to steal, and if an auto isn't available they usually will be more than happy to take a boat instead," he said.

In Army

Dual Option Chosen

Two Plano men enlisted into the U.S. Army for three years recently, it was announced by Staff Sergeant Fred Ray, Collin County Army representative.

Kenneth Allan Bell Jr. and Mark Allan Nelson took advantage of the dual option offered by the Army which permitted them to choose an overseas assignment in Europe, and training as HAWK Missile Crewmen. After basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., they will receive training at the Air Defense Center, Ft. Bliss, Tex.

Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Nelson of 611 W. 16th St. and Kenneth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Bell, reside at 2001 Briarcrest Rd.

Sgt. Ray stated that young men and women interested in taking advantage of this dual option of travel and training are invited to contact him at 201 W. Louisiana, McKinney, (collect) 542-3337, or at the new location Plano, the 1500 block of Avenue "K". Sgt. Ray will be glad to explain this program and the many others available which are guaranteed before enlisting.

Turkey, Libya Focus of Show

Turkey and Libya are the subjects of the next University of Texas at Dallas Arts and Humanities travel slide program on areas of the world visited and photographed by members of the UTD faculty and staff.

The program is scheduled for 12:30 p.m. Wednesday in the university's Founders North Auditorium, and will be presented by Mrs. Katharine Brown, staff member in the UTD Institute for molecular biology.

Slides of Turkey, the crossroads of civilization, will include scenes of desert villages, castles built by the Crusaders, the first Christian church, and remnants of previous civilizations. Scenes of Libya vary from the Roman ruins at Sabratha to views of Tripoli today.

Admission is free and the public is welcome.

UTD Research

$2.9 Million Spent

Research expenditure of more than $2.9 million in The University of Texas at Dallas' Center for Advanced Studies was 3.93 percent of the total for public senior colleges and universities in Texas for fiscal 1973.

The listing does not include public medical, dental and allied health units.

Statistics for the year ending August 31, 1973 were published by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System.

UT-Dallas-CAS, which includes 49 principal investigators on staff, is listed in life sciences (biological), physical sciences including geological, physics and mathematics, and business administration research fields.

The Center for Advanced Studies at UTD includes faculty principal investigators who, in many instances, are involved in teaching of graduate programs operating in parallel to research. Institutes for chemistry, environmental sciences, geological sciences, management and administrative sciences, mathematical sciences, molecular biology, and physical sciences are included in the research organization.

In the metroplex region, Texas Woman's University at Denton recorded expenditures of $1,104,561, or 1.46 percent of the total; The University of Texas at Arlington, $932,004, or 1.23 percent; and North Texas State University at Denton, $821,345, or $0.8 percent, among the top eight in Texas.

UTD's $2,979,839 total is fifth among the 26 colleges and universities listed by the Coordinating Board report.

Texas A&M University, The University of Texas at Austin, Texas Technological University at Lubbock and the University of Houston are the top four.

UT-Dallas funding sources, the report says, were federal ($2,327,287) and state ($573,493), plus more than $78,000 from private research-supporting organizations.

Ash Claims

Crisis Will End

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Budget director Roy Ash, insisting there are still long-term energy problems, has nevertheless predicted the administration will "break the back" of the energy crisis this year.

Ash made his remarks Monday at a holiday meeting of the Joint Economic Committee, attended only by Democratic critics of the administration.

"I think you will find during the course of this year we will break the back of the energy crisis," Ash said and the "trauma" of the shortage, characterized by long lines at service stations, will end.

But he said the nation would have to change its habits of energy consumption. "We're going to have to live with 95 per cent of the energy we had before although our economy is growing."

Last Wednesday, Ash said the energy crisis "is manageable, it's one-time and it's short term." Those comments brought a swift reaction from energy chief William E. Simon and other energy officials to assure Americans that the energy crisis was real and would last for a number of years.

"A mountain is being made out of a semantic mole hill," Ash said Monday, adding that his remark had been generally misinterpreted and misrepresented. He said he had gone on to say that long-range problems would remain and his statement was based on the provision that consumers made the necessary adjustments to reduce consumption.

Proxmire, Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Wis., and Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., grilled Ash about the administration's economic policies, saying that the average man in the street was worse off under the administration's policies than he had been a year ago.

Ash replied that "using any measurement you want," the average man is better off today than he was five, 10 or 20 years ago even though the past year had been a hard one.

Unsold Autos Are Piling Up

DETROIT (UPI) — The gasoline shortage scare has left U.S. car dealers with an 80-day supply of unsold cars—the highest in history and enough to last until early May even if all auto plants were closed until late April.

What that means for the average buyer is the best deal in a long time on standard-size cars, the kind the automakers say are built for Mom, Dad, a couple of kids and their luggage. On some of those models, the auto plants have already built enough to last until July if sales don't pick up.

All models wouldn't be available into May since the hot-selling small cars are in extremely short supply. A 40-day supply is considered low and there are only enough Vegas on hand to last 21 days with Gremlin standing at 27 days and Pinto 31 days.

Fully loaded standard-size cars are selling for hundreds of dollars less than the sticker price for a basic model. Hot-selling small cars, on the other hand, are usually going out the door for the full sticker price and a low trade-in on the old car.

"Right now, I can get a customer any big car he wants without any wait and usually give him a price way below what the sticker says," said Joe Girard, the salesman who has sold more cars than any other for the

SPORTS PLANO STAR - COURIER

Plano Upends Berkner

Plano Wildcat baseball players will scrimmage for the second time this season at Wildcat Field today at 4 p.m.

Last week the 'cats had a scrimmage scheduled Friday that was re-set to Saturday. The 'Cats downed Richardson Berkner 8-5.

Today's scrimmage with McKinney is a preview of when the two teams meet March 1 in the season opener for both teams.

Plano had a good scrimmage with Berkner Saturday, according to Coach Rommie Maxey.

"Actually the 8-5 score means nothing because it was a scrimmage," Maxey said. "We made a lot of mental errors."

"We had two errors on the field but mentally we were missing our signs among other things," Maxey said.

"We are hitting the ball pretty well. Against Berkner we got three base hits and struck out only three times. The rest of the time we hit the ball but were picked off at base or caught on the fly."

"We are using the scrimmages to mainly improve on our fundamentals," Coach Maxey added.

Plano has a scrimmage with St. Marks Saturday, Feb. 23. The opening game of the season with McKinney March 1 will be played there.

Soccer Club Ties Pearce

After three games in the North Texas High School Soccer League the Plano Soccer Club has yet to win a game. But at the same time they have only lost one game.

Plano has had two consecutive tie games in their

Soccer Season Near

Practice sessions for the upcoming Plano Sports Authority soccer season were held Saturday. The season will open Feb. 23 at parks throughout the city. In one of the practice games Saturday, Julio Carmona, coach of the Hurricanes, talks to his team during the half. Carmona is a native of Columbia where he played soccer. 'Cats Look to Bishop Lynch

Thinclads End Practice Meets

The next time Coach Ron McNeil's thinclads hit the cinders it won't be a practice session. Plano High School participated in their second practice meet of the season Saturday and are looking towards their first official meet next Saturday.

"We got a real test with Bishop Lynch next Saturday," Coach McNeil said. "There will be several AAA and at least 15 AAAA schools at the meet. It will take an outstanding performance by our kids to do well."

Coach McNeil wasn't that pleased with the results of the practice meet with Mesquite and R.L. Turner Feb. 16.

"I was pleased with some areas and I was disappointed in others," Coach McNeil said. "Overall we have quite a bit of work to do."

"Shedric Smith, Chuck Stauffer, Frank Cantu, Mike Harless and the relay teams did a good job in the meet but we were hurting in the field events. It will take some work there to improve," Coach McNeil said.

Plano won several events and placed high in others in the triangle meet held at Mesquite.

The 440 yard relay team placed second running a 45.7 time. Runners were Bruce Gaddis, David Melson, David Swenson and Shedric Smith.

In the two mile run Eloy Garcia ran third in 10: 57.5. Three other runners ran in that race, Gary Mattox, Mark Lein and Don Campbell.

Chuck Stauffer's 2:09.4 time in the 880 yard run was good for a third place finish. Mike Hareless ran a 2:14.1 time. Other runners were Kevin Beadle and Johnny Garza.

Shedric Smith placed first in the 100 yard dash with a 10 second flat timing. Dave Melson and Bruce Gaddis followed with 10.6 times. Other runners were Swenson and Jack Neville.

Several runners ran in the 120 yard hurdles with Mark Slaughter posting the best time in 17.8 seconds. Bobby Clay ran an 18 second race followed by Randy Axtell at 19.2, Bob Drew at 19.5 and Jerry Crain at 22.8.

latest outings. Saturday Plano tied Richardson J.J. Pearce 3-3.

"It was a great team effort," Coach Mike Collins said. "It was just a bit of bad luck that kept us from winning the game."

Plano was plagued by two Pearce scores that shouldn't have been, according to Coach Collins.

With Plano leading the first half 1-0, Pearce got a penalty kick and Plano blocked it. Officials found something wrong, and Pearce got a second attempt, this time made the attempt good to put the score at 1-1.

Pearce's second goal was equally amazing.

With the ball rolling towards the goal slowly, two Plano players attempted to kick it away from the net at the same time. The combined effort knocked the ball into their own net for a Pearce lead of 2-1. Plano came back though and tied the game at the half 2-2.

In the second half each team scored one goal for the final 3-3.

Plano's goals were scored by Bill Gelgesen and Hubert Alfaro. Other offensive standouts were Jim Christian and defensively the top performers were Wes Hansen and Fred Weise.

Plano has another match Saturday with R.L. Turner at Rich field at 3 p.m.

Mike Collins said the game will be a special "Kid's Day" in which any Plano Sports Authority or Plano YMCA team wearing their soccer shirt gets in the game free. Without a shirt admission is 25 cents and adult admission is 50 cents.

participated in their second practice meet of the season Saturday and are looking towards their first official meet next Saturday.

"We got a real test with Bishop Lynch next Saturday," Coach McNeil said. "There will be several AAA and at least 15 AAAA schools at the meet. It will take an outstanding performance by our kids to do well."

Coach McNeil wasn't that pleased with the results of the practice meet with Mesquite and R.L. Turner Feb. 16.

"I was pleased with some areas and I was disappointed in others," Coach McNeil said. "Overall we have quite a bit of work to do."

"Shedric Smith, Chuck Stauffer, Frank Cantu, Mike Harless and the relay teams did a good job in the meet but we were hurting in the field events. It will take some work there to improve," Coach McNeil said.

Plano won several events and placed high in others in the triangle meet held at Mesquite.

The 440 yard relay team placed second running a 45.7 time. Runners were Bruce Gaddis, David Melson, David Swenson and Shedric Smith.

In the two mile run Eloy Garcia ran third in 10: 57.5. Three other runners ran in that race, Gary Mattox, Mark Lein and Don Campbell.

'Too Small' for NFL

PAMPA, Tex. (UPI) — Jerry "Too Small" Jones thinks he deserves a shot in the NFL. After all the 5-4, 140-pound machinist can catch a football and he's hell on knees.

"I caught the ball pretty good, I never dropped it," Jones said Monday of his tryout with the Houston Oilers. "One time on the hook pattern, the ball hit me right in the eye and it swelled up and got bloody, but I held onto the ball."

Jones, 24, who last played football in the ninth grade when he was one inch shorter, packed up his family and trekked 600 miles across Texas to spend the weekend at the Oilers tryout camp.

Jones said when he first thought of trying out with the Oilers he wrote a letter to general manager and coach Sid Gillman.

"I told him that the Oilers are better than a last place team, and that I thought I could help him. Then he mailed me a card and told me when the tryout was."

Jones darted in and around the Oilers practice field wearing a warn jersey with the words "Too Small" stitched on the back. HE came to camp as a running back, but was shifted to wide receiver. All he got to show for the ordeal was the Oilers edition of the rejection slip:

"It is the judgment of our coaches that you do not have the potential to help us at this time. We want to wish you success in your future activities."

But Jones still hopes his future activities involve the NFL. He has the special desire to take a crack at the league's No. 1 draft choice this year—Ed "Too Tall" Jones, the defensive behemoth drafted by the Dallas Cowboys.

"I could knowk him down," Jones said. "I'm built so low to the ground that I can bearwalk a bigger man and knock him to the ground. I'm right there at his knees, so he's going to fall on top of me."

"Lookout 'Too Tall,' you better not have weak knees."

Lyle Vs. Bonavena

DENVER (UPI) — Ron Lyle, the No. 5 ranking heavyweight contender, has signed to meet sixth-ranked Oscar Bonavena in a 12-round bout at the Denver Coliseum on March 19.

The fight originally was to have been held Feb. 28, but Bonavena has developed a liver ailment which will keep him out of action for several weeks.
